Integration Director Coaching the head of strategy, head of M&A or corporate development

M&A Coaching for the head of Strategy, M&A or Corporate Development: Leading deals can be lonely. Taking on a deal and delivering it successfully is tough. The multiple stakeholder expectations are extremely challenging, and it often seems like there is nowhere to go for support.

We leverage our front line M&A experience and coaching expertise to help you. We coach 1:1 and in teams, bring laser like focus to the actions which can move the dial. This isn't "soft and fluffy" – it's about support and challenge, grounded firmly in real deal experience.

How it works:

Try it and see if it is for you, before you pay. The first two sessions will only be paid for after ten have been completed, you can cancel after the first two if you're not happy.

Who is it for:

Any person leading deals who needs an independent sounding board.

Coaching setting:

Can be done in a live setting, over telephone, or as a team event.

Client quotes:

“Very practical, very useful, this helps me to focus on the right things. I have been focusing on the admin, and you have refocused me. Thank you.”

“You put your finger on the big points. I need to ensure I am not losing focus. I need to assure that the line is doing more and I need to find a way to see that the line is focused on the core too.”
